

We answer to you®

Ammonia response: expert help, right away!

When ammonia is released, you need help — NOW! Bassett's Level 2 ammonia response team is ready to assist authorities to quickly and safely respond to ammonia releases large and small. Just as importantly, because Bassett crews have extensive experience building ammonia systems, they know better than anyone how to safely get those systems back under control and prevent secondary releases hours or days later.

Bassett Mechanical serves all of your ammonia response needs

- Expertly trained response team, on the scene quickly
- Extensive experience working closely with emergency personnel
- Emergency-response trailer stocked with safety equipment, ready at a moment's notice
- Industry-leading knowledge on leak control and prevention

You can't afford to use anyone but the best during an ammonia release!

Call Bassett Mechanical today to arrange for an ammonia system safety inspection and release action planning consultation!

AREAS OF EXPERTISE